Learning Technology, Bangor University

InterWrite PRS - Audience response system operating instructions

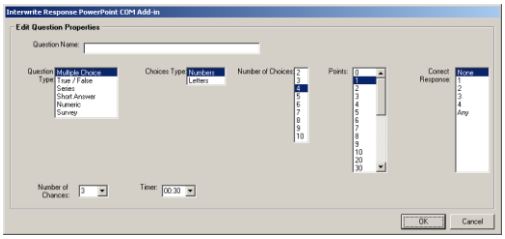
Creating questions using Powerpoint

Open Powerpoint

Click on Add-Ins

Select New Question

Give the question a name e.g. Question 1



Decide on question type e.g. Multiple Choice, True/False,

Decide on choices type e.g. Numbers or Letters

Decide on number of choices

Choose how many points awarded for correct answer

Select which is the correct response

Decide how many times a response may be given

Timer = time given to respond.

Click OK

Write your question and possible answers within the PowerPoint slide

Repeat this process each time you wish to ask a question.

Using the Audience Response System in Class

Switch on computer

Put receiver into USB slot

Load powerpoint presentation

Open as a Slide Show

Message appears “We have detected….” Select “Yes”

In the dialog box, give the class a name, click OK

Switch handsets to ON and wait until display reads "Please wait …. Found class"

On the handset press the green arrow, Display reads (now ready to use)

ANS:
My Class:

On a slide with a ARS question (interwrite logo bottom left), adjust the timer (default 30 seconds)

Press the green arrow to Start (or pause the answer period). The seconds count down.

Student presses key to answer (backspace to delete) and then green arrow to Send, display reads Received

Number of responses to question collated at right of countdown timer.

Graph produced of responses

Incorrect entries recorded as Invalids

When closing down, option appears to manage data and you can see responses to all questions.

Individual computers need the interwrite software loading locally. Use powerpoint to create presentations . To create or edit questions, click Add Ons within powerpoint and use options there.

To view responses

Load powerpoint presentation

Click Show presentation. Message appears 'We have detected…' Select 'Yes'

In the dialog box, click 'Cancel'

Close the help screen

Select 'Manage My Data'

You can also view responses at a later date by going to Start > All Programs > eInstruction > Response > Response

You will be able to access 'Manage My Data' where responses can be viewed.